

PARAMO FUERA CREST WINDPROOF JACKET

£55

This is a very nice lightweight windproof jacket from British brand Paramo. And if you treat it with Nikwax it will offer water repellency too. The adjustable hood is great and is even wired with reflective taping over shoulders front and back an important touch – sleeve would be good too (like Montane) so you can signal on a bike with your hands. This would be fine in the UK's finest drizzle and wind. If it looked to be much more persistent then you'd want one of Paramo's many waterproof offerings instead – bigger of course and heavier too, so if the weather looks as if this will be all you need, it's all you should take.

Size – half baguette sandwich.
